

Eutrema edwardsii ssp. penlandii

PENLAND ALPINE FEN MUSTARD

Photo Copyright © 1999 by B. Jennings

Illustration Copyright © 1999

Brassicaceae (Mustard Family)

Synonym: Eutrema penlandii

Look Alikes: Noccaea montana has obcordate fruit and long styles (1-3 mm). Draba borealis, D. cana, D. porsildii and D. lonchocarpa are pubescent.

Flowering/Fruiting Period: Late June-early July/July-August.

Habitat: Alpine tundra, rooted in mosses on stream banks and in wetlands that remain wet year-round. Elev. 12,300-13,100 ft.

Photo Copyright © 1999 by B. Jennings

Distribution: Endemic to the Mosquito Range in central Colorado (Park and Summit Cos.).

References: Naumann 1988; Schwendinger et al. 1991; U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service 1993a.